Event To Be Staged In Bristol High School Stadium

A corps of distinction, St. Vincent's Cadet Corps of Bayonne, New Jersey, has engraved a history unique in drum corps circles. A tough competitor, it has proved a match this year as in the past, for every junior drum corps in the field. Its members, fired with real drum corps spirit, have never wavered whether it faced a Junior or a Senior. Competitive spirit such as this produced a national champion in the junior class in both the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Contest at Los Angeles, and the American Legion National Contest at New York City.

This outstanding unit will return to Bristol to enter the Eastern States Championship to defend their present title. The contest is to be held June 13 at the Bristol High School Stadium.

Founded in 1939 with second hand drums and bugles as a Boy Scout Corps, the group gradually progressed into a maneuvering unit to win its first V. F. W. State Championship in 1943.

At the close of World War II, with the musical arrangements of James J. Donnelly and under the directorship of Michael H. Petrone the corps proceeded to Boston to

Fitch School Won't be Set For Fall Term

The John Fitch School, first school to be built in Levittown, will not be ready for use for the fall school term.

Howell Lewis Shay, architect for the Bristol township school board told the board, meeting last night at Delhaas High School, that completion of the school would be delayed at least one month beyond opening date of other township schools. Shay blamed the current strike of carpenters and pipe-fitters for delay of the Fitch school.

In addition to the one-month delay, the school will be delayed an additional day for each day that the strike continues, Shay said.

Latest reports indicate settlement of the month-old AFL carpenters strike is near today. A reported formula for settlement has been worked out by negotiators and it reportedly has been approved by employers. It has been sent for study to the 56-man board of the Carpenter's Metropolitan district council.

J. Russell Straub, board president, hit the high rate of return of tax notices that have been sent out for collection of school taxes. William Clifton explained that this was because the assessment books did not always keep pace with street name changes brought about by readjustment of postal zones.

Straub also said that the board was receiving complaints about "high" tax bills. He said he wanted to make it clear that there had been no increase in the tax rate in the budgets of the Bristol township

The affair yesterday not only afforded an opportunity for men and women of the county to meet members of the Thompson Neely family, but also to view the fine examples of furniture and household items which date back to the days of Washington. Countless pieces have been placed for the two months loan exhibit under direction of the women's clubs of the county. Close by Mr. Neely and his sisters yesterday, in a case provided for some of the treasures were silhouettes of their grandparents, John Thompson Neely and Clarissa Johnson Neely. These silhouettes were unique in that contrary to usual procedure of cutting the figures from the "black" for a white background, the scissors had been applied to a square of white paper, superimposed on black cloth.

Since April 15th, the opening date for the loan exhibit, countless people have visited the charming colonial stone house in the upper reaches of the state park. Yesterday members of the Neely family told of their plans to send a number of other family pieces for a permanent exhibit.

The register was signed yesterday by many prominent individuals. One of the guests, State Senator Edward B. Watson, has this to say during his visit: "I am agreeably surprised to see the tremendous strides made by the women of

Levittown Water Plant Action Seen June 29

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—Levittown Penna. Corp. has applied for a Department of the Army permit to construct a water intake pipe into the Delaware River 500 feet upstream from the mouth of Common Creek, Bristol twp.

A filtration plant is to be constructed at the site, for supplying water to Levittown through Lower Bucks County Joint Municipal Authority. Wells at the location now provide water for the community, according to C. Donald Moyer, Authority chairman.

Penna. Corp.'s plans, on display at the Army Engineers office, 121 N. Broad street, provide for a 36-inch intake pipe extending 180 feet channelward from the mean water line. The pipe would rest on the river bottom, with the top of the outer end 4.4 feet below mean low water.

Col. Walter Krueger, Jr., Phila. district engineer said, in announcing the application:

Decision must rest primarily upon the effect of the work on navigation. Any criticism or protest regarding the plans from the standpoint of navigation should be submitted to the District Engineer prior to June 29, as it is desired to act on the application on that date.

Second Blast Furnace Fired at U. S. Steel

Production of iron in the second of two blast furnaces was begun this week with the first cast of the "Hazel" furnace at the Fairless Works of the United States Steel Corporation at Morrisville.

Initial operation of the "Hazel" furnace named in honor of Mrs. Benjamin F. Fairless, wife of the chairman of the board and chief executive officer of U. S. Steel, brought to full production the iron making facilities of the plant.

The "Hazel" furnace combined with the No. 1 blast furnace, "Nancy" will have an annual capacity of 1,200,000 tons of iron.

Fitch School Won't be Set For Fall Term

The John Fitch School, first school to be built in Levittown, will not be ready for use for the fall school term.

Howell Lewis Shay, architect for the Bristol township school board told the board, meeting last night at Delhaas High School, that completion of the school would be delayed at least one month beyond opening date of other township schools. Shay blamed the current strike of carpenters and pipe-fitters for delay of the Fitch school.

In addition to the one-month delay, the school will be delayed an additional day for each day that the strike continues, Shay said.

Latest reports indicate settlement of the month-old AFL carpenters strike is near today. A reported formula for settlement has been worked out by negotiators and it reportedly has been approved by employers. It has been sent for study to the 56-man board of the Carpenter's Metropolitan district council.

J. Russell Straub, board president, hit the high rate of return of tax notices that have been sent out for collection of school taxes. William Clifton explained that this was because the assessment books did not always keep pace with street name changes brought about by readjustment of postal zones.

Straub also said that the board was receiving complaints about "high" tax bills. He said he wanted to make it clear that there had been no increase in the tax rate in the budgets of the Bristol township

Fairless Hills Residents To Fight New Water Rates

Civic Ass'n Formed to Battle 'Exorbitant Charges;' Peers is Head

FAIRLESS HILLS, June 5.—Irate residents of this community last night scheduled a meeting Wednesday at the Methodist Church to discuss what they term are "exorbitant charges for water and sewage disposal."

The announcement came after initial plans for the formation of a civic association were completed and temporary officers elected.

The group announced it would fight a recently issued rate schedule which calls for the more than 1100 home owners to pay $5.50 per quarter for the first 10,000 gallons of water, plus $6.50 for sewage disposal. Water and sewage charges above these figures are based on a sliding scale.

Dated May 18, the Falls township Authority letter stated new billings would begin May 5.

James Peters, of 155 Lebbie lane, temporary chairman of the organization, said most residents thought the new water and sewage rates were "entirely too high."

Peers said the group was organized to fight the rates.

BACK TO EDUCATORS

At two of the nation's large universities, the postwar experiment of selecting administrative heads from fields other than education has been terminated. Columbia chose General Eisenhower for its president, Pennsylvania Harold Stassen, both of whom traversed the academic grove with no particular distinction and departed for other pursuits.

Columbia and Pennsylvania were caught up in what seems to have been a passing obsession with glamor, which sometimes is useful in increasing endowments. The one went after a well known soldier, the other after an ambitious politician, one of whom was nominated and elected President of the U. S., naming the other to a post of cabinet rank. In the process, Columbia and Pennsylvania were left headless.

Now these two institutions are returning to the wise thesis that the head of an educational institution might as well be an educator. At Columbia's commencement Dr. Grayson L. Kirk, a political scientist, will be installed as president. Pennsylvania's trustees have just chosen an atomic physicist of national reputation, Dr. Gaylord P. Harnwell, a professor there since 1938, as its new head.

These men studied to be educators and have spent their lives in education. Dr. Harnwell performed outstanding service in the atomic field.

American education has prospered on the assumption that a college confers distinction on its president, rather than vice versa.

WAS GRANDMOTHER WRONG?

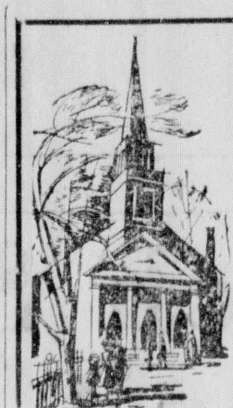

Most of the arguments grandmother formerly used against cigarettes have fallen by the wayside. They probably will not stunt growth, lead to drug addiction and other vices.

Nicotine is a deadly poison, just as grandmother said, but who ever heard of a smoker getting enough of it to keel over?

The old arguments, however, have been replaced by others which rest on a more solid foundation. It seems to be established that nicotine absorbed in smoking is an aggravating and possibly a causative factor in thromboangiitis obliterans, a painful affliction of blood vessels in the extremities which may necessitate amputations. It may be a factor in heart trouble.

And evidence is accumulating that cigarette tars—not nicotine this time—are a factor in the increase of lung cancer. Dr. Cornelius P. Rhoads, cancer authority, so testified before a congressional subcommittee. The chemicals responsible, he said, are not present in cigar and pipe smoke.

Research scientists are now working on the cigarette tar chemicals blamed for lung cancer, hoping to eliminate them. It may yet be possible to make cigarettes as harmless as grandmother insisted they weren't.

You'd Be Amazed at Your Savings... with Aero Willys

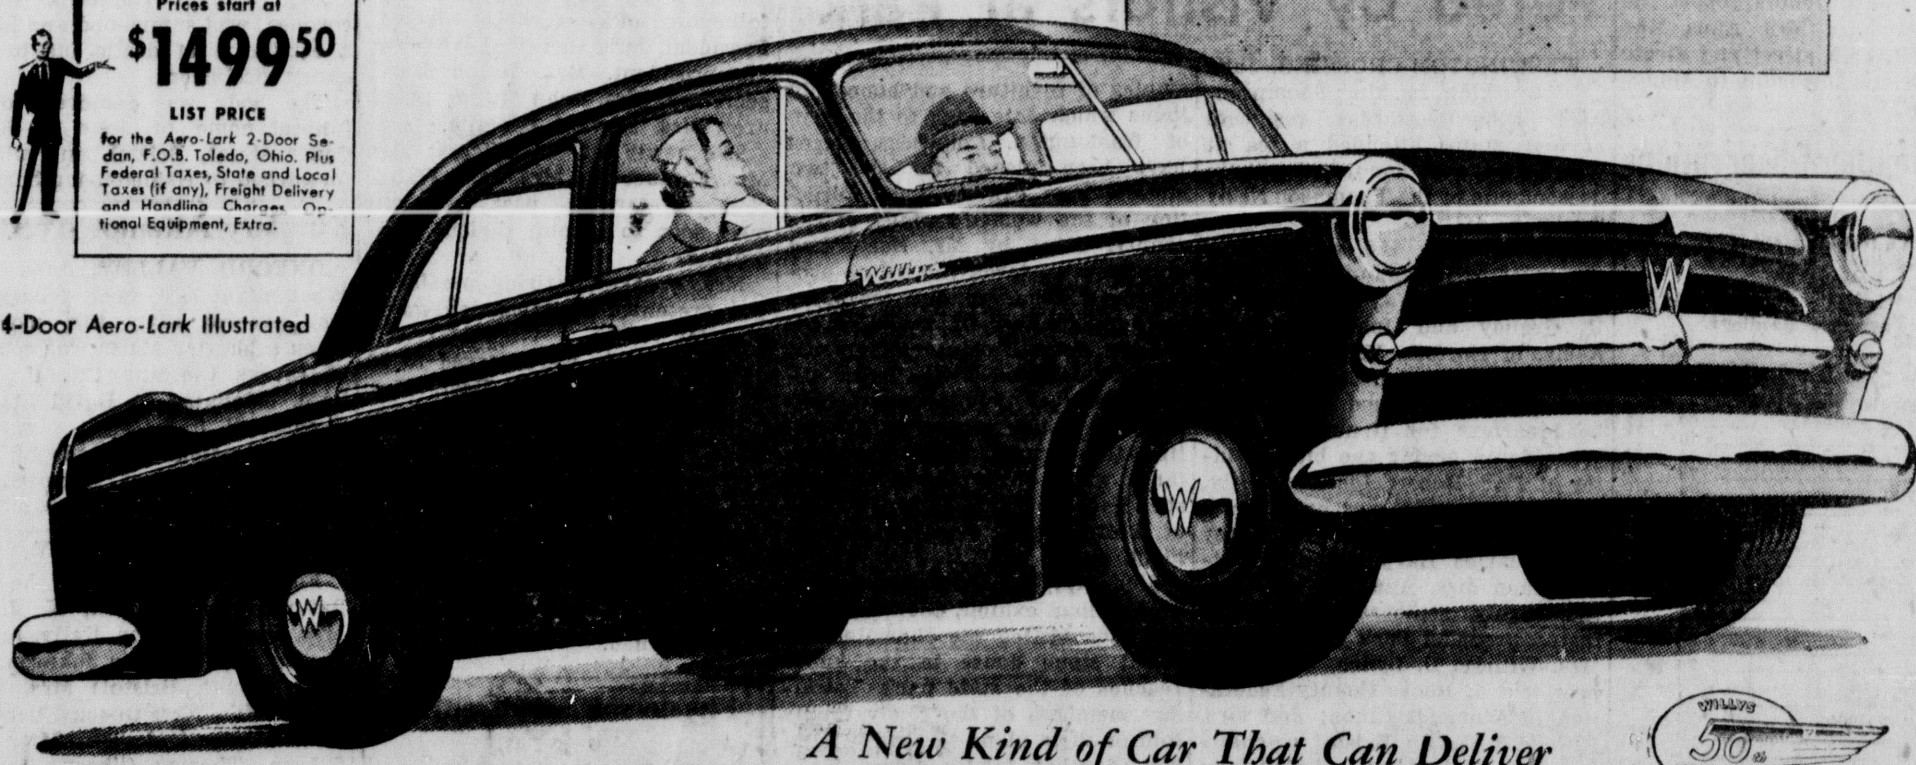

With an Aero Willys, if you average only 27 miles a gallon, for 10,000 miles you would use about 370 gallons. At 26c your gas would cost only $96.20 a year. (Reports have been received of special tests showing up to 35 miles per gallon, with overdrive.)

If you average 15 miles a gallon with your present car, and drive it 10,000 miles a year, you would use about 666 gallons of gas. Regular gas at 26c would cost you $173.16 a year.

The difference you can save on gas alone with the Aero Willys may be as much as $76.96 a year . . . but you also save on oil, repairs and other maintenance. In addition to economy, this low, young-looking, stylish car is extremely comfortable, has the ruggedness of the 'Jeep' . . . the luxury of an airliner . . . has been judged the safest car of the year by Motor Trend Magazine.

spirited young veteran who lost both of his hands in World War II, and who is now devoting his full time to helping other disabled veterans.

Climaxing an active post-war career in veteran work he has been named Special Deputy of the Secretary General of the World Veterans Federation. The position carries with it the responsibility of steering the rehabilitation program of W. F. V. O. whose current membership includes some 87 National Veterans organizations in 14 countries. Russell is bringing to Labor and Industry in the Lower Bucks area the policies and programs of the rehabilitation section of the World Veterans Federation. Yet, with all this activity in behalf of the veterans of the nation, Russell is still best known and best remembered as the handless veteran in the Academy Award winning motion picture of 1946—Best Years of Our Lives. In this role Russell himself won two of Hollywood's treasured "Oscars" — one award was for the best supporting star of the year, the other, specially conferred, for bringing aid and hope to the disabled through the medium of the motion picture. The success of a community depends in large measure upon its neighborliness — both personal neighborliness and business neighborliness. In fact, this quality has been a vital factor in making America great. The Junior Chamber of Commerce invite you personally to attend our "Neighbors United Luncheon" and bring along any other neighbor you can. Reservations may be made by contacting: Fred R. for unloading only. He said the plant is substituting oil for other fuel and seeks to build the pier on its frontage to unload oil barges of fuel by a pipeline for its industrial use.

He added that the recommendation of approval specifies that the permit should be granted for use only as a receiving point for oil and other materials from vessels suitable to be discharged at this kind of an installation.

Concerning the Kaiser application, Farrier said a continuance was granted because there was "insufficient information to permit the committee to make a final recommendation in the matter."
The Kaiser plant wanted to extend an intake line for a second source of water supply for fire protection by pumping in water from the Delaware River. The intake pipe would extend into navigable waters.

Max Slafoff, Bristol; Mrs. Charles Bowden, Roxborough, and Mrs. Louis Arnholt, Willow Grove, descendants of Emanuel Leutze, who painted the famed picture of "Washington Crossing the Delaware," now hanging in the Methodist Church in this park.

Mrs. Goslin, the county federation's Americanism chairman, and chairman of this, the county project, stated during the reception: "Since we have attained our purpose in getting the doors of the Thompson-Neely house open, we are delighted to hand the project over to the Washington Crossing Park Commission on June 15th (Concluding date for loan exhibit). Someone from my committee will be here from one to four p. m. on June 16, 17, 18, to return the exhibits to their owners. There is quite a nucleus of things which really belong here, and any of the present exhibitors who care to allow their belongings to remain may do so, assuming their own responsibility."

Serving as hostesses yesterday were three members of Doylestown Women's Club, Mrs. James Barlow.

THE WOMAN WHO PERSUADED GOD

Scripture tells us that she was at a marriage feast with Her Son. There was no more wine. Perhaps the joy of the celebration was in danger of disappearing as the beverage had. At any rate Mary said to Jesus, "They have no wine." And Jesus replied, "Woman, what is that to me and to thee? My hour has not yet come."

The Gospel writer does not tell us that Mary smiled at her Son, but she evidently understood Him very well. It is interesting, even amusing to read this very human chat between mother and Son. For Mary then turned to the waiters nearby and said, "Whatever He shall say to you, do ye."

At first the Son of God was unconcerned. The next moment He told the waiters what to do, and then He performed His first miracle by changing water into wine.

If Mary was solicitous about wine at a wedding, what must be her interest in us—her spiritual sons and daughters? If Jesus granted this request, could He refuse her when she asks Him to give us the grace to serve Him faithfully?

O Mary, Conceived without sin, pray for us, who have recourse to thee!

School, during which promotion exercises for pupils in grades up to the sixth were held. The general theme was "Friendship Circle—Meaning Service and What we do for Other Countries". Supper was partaken of on the lawn. Of the 212 pupils, 14 were promoted from grade six. Among the participants in the program were Mrs. Burton's grandchildren.

Four from this area are among those who on June 8th will graduate from Philadelphia Bible Institute, exercises to be held in Baptist Temple. Dr. V. Raymond Edman, president of Wheaton (Ill.) College, will deliver the address. Those from this area to graduate are: Miss Carol J. Henderson, Schumacher Drive, Bristol Terrace 1, Miss Mary G. Getz, Park ave., Croydon R. D. 1, and Kenneth E. Lewis, 1625 River road, Croydon, all in the day school; and Miss Martha E. Hattenfield, 818 Cedar ave., Croydon, evening school.

Straub's charge was denied this morning by Chief County Assessor Elwood Britton, in the following statement:

"There has been no increase in assessed valuation of occupations. Neither the county chief assessor nor the local assessors have any power in the setting of tax rates or determining the amount of money anyone shall pay.

"Neither the county nor the assessors have the power in determining whether the officials levy a per capita or a head tax. A per capita or a head tax is not based on one's occupation," he said.

Wigham Sparks Auto Boys Win Over Fifth Ward, 14-0

"Bill" Wigham won his third straight mound victory as Auto Boys white-washed Fifth Ward Sporting Club, 14-0, in a Bristol Softball League game on Memorial field last evening.

Wigham allowed the defending champions but two hits, both singles and both coming in the sixth inning from the bats of Danny Pieo and Henry Liberatore. He struck out eight, and walked two.

Bob Caione was the losing pitcher. He was nicked for 14 hits with Johnny Frank getting a home run in the fourth frame. In this inning, Auto Boys counted 8 runs.

Pursell Bats Pennel to Win Over Croydon Comets, 9-7

The bat of Frankie Pursell was too much for the Croydon Comets last evening as Pennel Aces topped the Croydon team, 9-7, in a Tri-County League game on Leedom's Field.

Pursell rapped out a single, double, triple, and home run in batting the Aces to the triumph. His homer came in the third with the bases bare.

Bill Condit hit a homer for Croydon in the third inning with two on base. Croydon's league record is 6 wins and three defeats.

Kaiser Metal Downs Fifth Ward, 4-0, Here

"Jim" Thompson, of Kaiser Metal, pitched another shutout victory last evening as his team won over Fifth Ward, 4-0, in a Little-Bigger League game on Memorial field.

Thompson gave up three hits and fanned five. Joe Campbell, the losing moundman, also gave up three bingles. Two of these, a triple by C. Fisher and single by Barkasy, came in the third to help account for three markers.

Bensalem Twp. H. S. Loses To Pennsbury High, 9-4

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, June 5 — Bensalem Township High lost its final game of the season yesterday, bowing to Pennsbury High, 9-4, on the Hilltop field.

Ray Bray was the winning twirler with Ron Elliott, the loser.

Mike Baldovsky, of the Falcons, had three doubles which accounted for two runs driven in. Baldovsky also scored a pair of runs.

Giants Top Eagles, 11-8, On Rohm & Haas Field

The Giants finally broke into the win column of the Bristol Little League by whipping the Eagles, 11-8, last evening on Rohm and Haas diamond.

The Giants had 13 hits and these mixed with loose playing gave them the win. Klein had three of the victor's hits while McCoy had four for four for the losing aggregation.

BIG CATCH

The first big catch of bluefish off the New Jersey coast reported by local anglers was made this morning by Bob Hendricks, well-known roofing contractor and sportsman, who said he and B. Kunz, Croydon, landed 36 white troling about 8 miles off of Beach Haven Inlet on Wednesday. The blues weighed between 2½ and 4 pounds each and were landed on light tackle.

Continental Army was disbanded Nov. 4, 1783.

Pinch-Hitting for Joe Elberson

The pheasants arrived at the Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association's pens last week. These pens are owned by George Bintliff on Edgely Ave., in Edgely. We received two hundred and fifty chicks. They are turned over to Mr. and Mrs. George Bintliff to raise, and this is quite a job. When George and his wife take these birds to raise, they are just a ball of fuzz; but in about a week, they run all over the brooder house.

This is when the big job starts for the Bintliffs. The birds get in to more trouble than anything I know of. They get their heads caught in the wire and pick at one another. When this happens, they have to be stopped right away or they will kill the ones who are weaker. This is just a few of the things the Bintliffs have to watch.

I was up to see the pheasants last Monday and are they a sight to see. They are only two weeks old and are starting to use their wings already. They jump and fly about three feet off the ground.

Mr. or Mrs. Bintliff will be glad to show you the pheasants. It is worth the trip just to hear them tell how and what they have to do to keep these birds healthy. George and his wife are two of the best pheasant raisers in the state of Pennsylvania. Last year they received two hundred and fifty and lost only eight. Five of them were very weak when the birds were delivered, so they really only lost three. The danger of losing birds does not start until they get about four or five weeks old. They are out in the big pens then and have to be watched more than ever. Thunder storms are bad when they are first put out. If the storm is a hard rain, it will drown a lot of them. The rats and weasels chase a bird until they pick him so badly he dies. When they get a taste of blood, they all start picking. Cannibalism is one of the biggest killers you have to combat in the raising of pheasants. There isn't much you can do but turn them out and let them take care of themselves.

The biggest problem the Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association has is finding places to release these birds when they are big enough to let out for the hunters. There are very few grounds around where we can hunt now, and we believe in putting the birds on open hunting grounds. Go up and see the pheasants when you get a chance.

Fred Davies broke 99 blue rocks out of one hundred at Pine Valley, New Jersey. Fred or "Doc" as he is known is one of Bristol's best shooters. He was shooting practice at Pine Valley when he tied Harry Bullock who also broke 99 targets in a practice shoot. "Doc" will shoot for the New Jersey Championship which will be a two hundred bird shoot next Sunday.

There will be a casting practice at Silver Lake on Tuesday evening from 6:30 to 8:30. This practice is to get in shape for the June 14th tournament at Willow Grove. This tournament is for the Middle Atlantic Championship, so all casters who are interested in this tournament come out to the lake on Tuesday.

After the casting there will be a meeting at the American Legion Hall. This is the regular meeting of the Bristol Fish and Game Protective Association.

President Homer Hobbs would like to have all members out at this meeting. There is a lot of business to be taken care of. We want to know who is going to take part in the Long Beach Island fishing tournament, so come out to the meeting if you want to take part in the tournament. We also have the pheasant problem to take care of, and a lot of other important business. Be seeing you at the meeting.
